Accreditation Statement

The U.S. Army Medical Command is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The U.S. Army Medical Command designates this educational activity for a maximum of 3 *AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)*TM. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Statement of Need/Gap Analysis

The purpose of this CME activity is to address the identified gap(s):

- * 1) Medical providers must be able to differentiate signs and symptoms of chemical pulmonary agents.
- * 2) Medical providers must be able to supervise and delegate resources during the patient decontamination process.
- * 3) Medical providers must be able to identify and appropriately treat patients exposed to chemical pulmonary agents based on diagnosis.

Learning Objectives

1. Apply the fundamentals of chemical agent terminology.
2. Apply the fundamentals of mechanism of action.
3. Apply the fundamentals of pathophysiology.
4. Apply the fundamentals of consideration of patient circumstances.

Intended Audience

The course is designed for Medical Corps and Nurse Corps officers, physician assistants, Medical Service Corps officers in specialties 67B, C, or E, and other selected medical professionals. Lectures, case studies, and interactive modules prepare graduates to effectively manage casualties exposed to chemical cyanide agents.

Disclosure of Faculty Relationships

As a sponsor accredited by the ACCME, it is the policy of the U.S. Army Medical Command to require the disclosure of the existence of any significant financial interest or any other relationship a faculty member or a sponsor has with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) discussed in an educational presentation.
