General Continuing Medical Education Information

Accreditation Statement

The U.S. Army Medical Command is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The U.S. Army Medical Command designates this educational activity for a maximum of 12 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Statement of Need

The planning committee for this activity has determined that a need exists to provide increased training in the Virtual Field Training Exercise (FTX) Interactive Multimedia Instruction (IMI) which was developed to provide interactive patient decontamination operations training to medical units or medical personnel caring for casualties of chemical warfare agents. The FTX IMI is designed to complement the Management of Chemical and Biological Casualties Course whenever a patient decontamination live FTX is not possible.

Learning Objectives

1. Select appropriate personnel, equipment, site, and operations order necessary to establish a patient decontamination site.
2. Position the equipment and personnel required to conduct patient decontamination site layout.

3. Process casualties for further care, to include triage, emergency treatment, and decontamination of contaminated casualties.
4. Disestablish the PDS while avoiding spread of contamination of patient.

Intended Audience

This course is designed for military medical personnel (physicians, nurses, physicians' assistants and certain Corpsmen); local emergency responders (ems/paramedics, law enforcement personnel, and firefighters) may also benefit from this training.

Policy on Disclosure

As a sponsor accredited by the ACCME, it is the policy of the U.S. Army Medical Command to require the disclosure of the existence of any significant financial interest or any other relationship a faculty member or a sponsor has with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) discussed in an educational presentation.
